Month of la Francophonie: Twittérature at Laurentian University

Come celebrate Laurentian research while kicking off the Francophonie month with the Office of Francophone Affairs!

During a social event, francophone and francophile researchers, the Laurentian and Greater Sudbury communities are invited to use Twitter as a plaform of litterary creation, to highlight the francophone scientific activities at Laurentian. Sharpen your metaphors, prose and alliterations, and most importantly, your latest research activity to create inspired works in 140 characters or less, using the hashtag: #SavoirsUL

Join us for a lively evening in the Alphonse-Raymond Pavilion on March 1st, from 5 to 7 p.m!
RSVP before February 17th, 2017 at baf@laurentian.ca.

About Laurentian University

Laurentian University is one of the fastest growing universities in Canada in the past decade, now serving more than 9,000 students, offering nearly 40 French programs and more than 800 course sections to 1,600 francophone and francophile students. In addition to its main campus in Sudbury, it now offers a growing number of programs in Barrie to the student body on that campus. With excellent programs and faculty, enviable class sizes and quality facilities, Laurentian has become a destination of choice for university studies in Ontario.
